Secretary of State Dulles Wins Applause on Arrival

BONN, Germany (AP)—NATO foreign ministers assembled here today for a three-day meeting which Secretary of State Dulles said "will seek to assure to our peoples the blessings of justice and peace."

A special four-engine plane of the U.S. Air Force landed the secretary and Mrs. Dulles in brilliant sunshine after a direct flight from Washington. Dulles acknowledged applause from thousands of persons at the airport with a jaunty wave of his hat and then drove to the headquarters of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

House Rejects Anti-Strike Repeal Bill

Measure Receives 12 Votes Less Than The Number Needed

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Missouri House refused today to pass a bill repealing the state's 1947 utility anti-strike act.

The vote was 67-73 with five other members refusing to take sides.

The vote gave the measure 12 less than the number needed for passage. Sponsors of the repeal said they did not know whether they would try for reconsideration next week.

In its final version, the bill would have required that Missouri's voters would have to approve repeal of the 10-year-old law before it could be wiped off the books.

The law permits the state to take over and operate any vital public utility when a work stoppage threatens to end service to the public. It has been used five times in the past decade.

Organized labor worked hard to get the repeal passed. Sponsors of the bill said the present law was unconstitutional, unfair and frequently unworkable.

But opponents of the repeal said the law has protected the public at times when irresponsible labor ignored the needs of the public in wage disputes.

The repealer's opponents said the Legislature should not pass the bill by requiring a popular vote on the proposal. They conceded there were some bad features in the law but said the protection of the public should not be endangered because of that.

Labor has fought penalty sections in the act. They permit heavy fines to be levied against any union and its leaders if a strike is ordered. They strip any striking worker of all his job seniority.

Because it takes from the utility worker his right to strike, they said, the act is constitutional.

It is unfair because it gives utility management a weapon to hold over the workers when they want to negotiate for better wages or working conditions, sponsors argued.

They argued passage of the bill so the voters of the state could "settle the question once and for all."

But opponents said there was no reason to force the voters to make a decision on a bad bill.

Earlier, the House reconsidered three pay raise bills and, apparently tired of having to consider some bills two or more times, defeated all three once more.

The bills would have increased the pay of the St. Louis prosecuting attorney, the secretary of the State Division of Labor and Industrial Inspection and each county collector.

Air Force Asks Okay On Spending $235,000

Congressman Morgan Moulder today announced that the Air Force has requested authority to spend appropriations of $235,000 for operational housing and training facilities at Whiteman Air Force Base, according to The Democrat - Capital's Washington bureau. The funds would be included in the 1958 fiscal budget.

The request was part of a general request by the Defense Department for new authority to spend $1,561,338,000 on military construction.

The new construction bill is $450,945,000 less than the total asked for the current fiscal year and $561,298,000 below the amount voted by Congress. The new request includes $54,472,000 for 2,381 military family housing units.

Bipartisan Support of Relief Plea

Resolution Requests Ease-up of Taxes By US Government

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A plea for federal tax relief won bipartisan support as it was introduced in the Missouri Senate today.

Sen. Albert M. Spradling (D) of Cape Girardeau offered the appeal. He was joined by another Democrat, veteran Sen. Michael Kinney of St. Louis, and two out-state Republicans, Sens. Jack S. Curtis of Springfield and James P. Kelly of Trenton.

Spradling asked that action on the resolution be deferred until it can be printed.

He charged that high income tax rates have destroyed individual incentive for investment in new business and have forced many small businesses into mergers, concentrating economic power in the hands of large corporations.

Tax rates up to 91 per cent amount to confiscation, the resolution said, with the result that "many taxpayers feel they have moral justification for evasion and dishonesty is encouraged."

The senate advanced a bill repealing the State Probation and Parole Board law after trimming the chairman's salary from the original $10,000 to $7,500 and the two board members from $8,500 to $6,000.

Senate amendments also took out a provision which automatically would have preserved the jobs of the present board members—Chairman Lewis M. Means, Ben B. Stewart and Elwood B. Robinson.

Moscow radio said Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin told the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee in London his government was ready to open about 2½ million square miles of its territory in Europe and eastern Siberia to aerial inspection if the United States would open the skies over almost the same amount of territory in Alaska and the western United States.

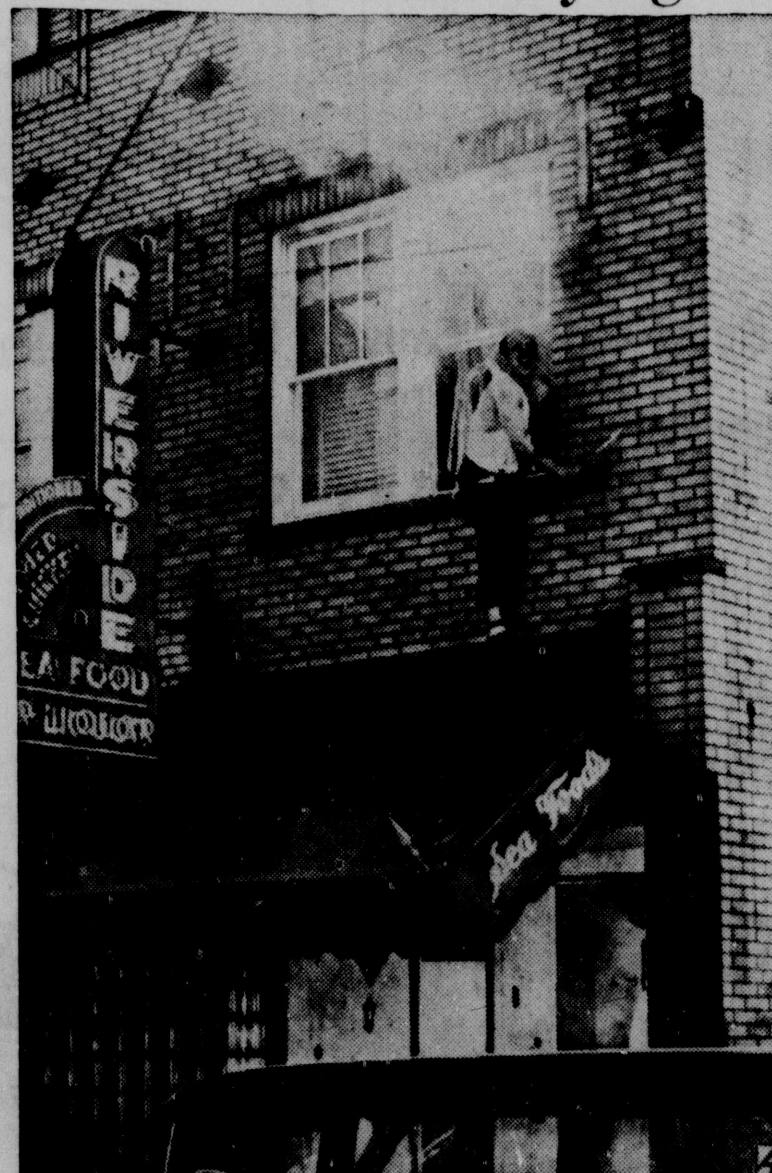

Zorin coupled this with proposals for an immediate suspension of nuclear weapon tests and Russian-American-British renunciation of the use of nuclear weapons.

He also repeated previous proposals to reduce armed forces of the United States, the Soviet Union and Red China to 2½ million men each and of Britain and France to 750,000 each as a prelude to further cuts.

The Sedalia chapter of the American Red Cross is making a renewed appeal for disaster fund donations to help victims of the recent tornadoes and floods in Texas and other parts of the South. Crippled Children's Center Has Star Treatment at Hagen Circus Legendary belief that circus people are often times calloused because of the rugged existence in which they find themselves was refuted Tuesday afternoon.

It took 22 handicapped children from the Crippled Children's Center to prove this when they stirred the hearts of roustabouts, performers and hucksters alike at the afternoon performance of the Hagen Brothers Circus.

The youngsters went to see the circus, and the circus saw to it that it would see them.

It all started earlier this week when Dick Eckhoff, representing the American Legion Post 342 of Sedalia, which sponsored the circus, went to the Crippled Children's Center and asked if it would be possible that officials at the center would like to take the children to the circus.

When it was determined that no other diversion could offer as much therapy for the handicapped youngsters, Shirley Wagner, local CPA, and the Dunn Beverage Co. furnished tickets for the children.

It was then discovered that several volunteer helpers at the center would necessarily have to attend with the children. Dan Robinson of the Robinson Motor Co. then presented tickets for the adults.

As soon as the business manager of the Hagen Brothers Circus learned that the children would be there, he made it possible that the six cars transporting the youngsters could drive right up into the main entrance of the "big top." This was attained through the additional thrill of having a police escort.

Roustabouts and other circus personnel helped to usher the mopeds right into the tent where they were given the best seats in the house. Volunteer helpers dug down in their pockets and saw to it that all of the children had popcorn, cotton candy and pop.

In one instance, one wide-eyed little fellow found himself ending up with a lone nickel. He hailed a vendor and pointed to a sack of popcorn which was selling at 15 cents a bag. He showed the five-cent piece to the salesman. The vendor paused, noting the braces on the legs and the big smile. He ignored the outstretched palm and laid the bag of corn in the youngster's lap. He walked away saying, "Eat heartily, young fellow, this one is on me!"

The performers, particularly the clowns and the animal acts, really "played" to the section holding the kids from the local center. One little boy discovered after the matinee, however, that he did not get to shake hands with a clown. This was overheard by a circus official, so the lad was rushed back to the dressing room where his wish came true.

It was a fine day for everyone—the kids, their teachers and helpers, and most of all for the "Hey, Rubie" guys who couldn't be mad at anyone Tuesday afternoon.

Pettis Roads To Receive Oil By State

In October of 1956 the State Highway Commission authorized the oiling of additional mileage on stone and gravel roads throughout the state. Included in this mileage are approximately 240 miles in District 4, of which the following routes in Pettis County are a part: Route C—from Route W to the Morgan County line; Route J—from Route N west to the end of the present oil; Route M—from Houstonia to the Saline County line; Route O—from Beaman north to Muddy Creek; Route T—from Route D south 1.4 miles; and Route V—from Route V east to Route C.

During the past several months intensive maintenance work has been carried out on these roads, in order to properly shape and compact the surfaces. The recent rains have greatly aided in carrying on this work and with favorable weather conditions, oiling work may be started at any time after April 29.

The Howard Construction Co. of Sedalia holds the contract for furnishing and applying the oil in Pettis County. The work on Routes J, M and T will be under the direct supervision of Maintenance Foreman Edward Brink of Marshall, and the work on Routes C, O and V will be under Maintenance Foreman Claud Sappington of Sedalia.

The oil will be placed in three applications with a lapse of six weeks between the first and the last application. The roads will be kept open for traffic by oiling on one side at a time, and allowing the oil to dry as much as possible before oiling the other side. This will require long stretches of one-way traffic and considerable inconvenience to drivers. It is suggested that during oiling operations these roads should be avoided when possible.

Senator Criticizes Ambassador Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Green (D-RI) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said today in his view Scott McLeod "does not seem to measure up" to qualifications needed to be ambassador to Ireland.

Green made this criticism of the State Department's security officer after the committee wound up a 2½-hour, closed-door hearing on McLeod's nomination. A vote was put off until tomorrow.

"From my opinion he has not made a very good case," Green said.

Short Pasture Meeting Is Set For This Friday

A short pasture meeting is to be held at 1 p.m. Friday. Bill Murphy, extension specialist in field crops, will be assisting. Two stops will be made. Fescue pasture will be seen at Herbert Gerken's at 1 o'clock and three orchard grass fields will be seen at Erwin Rumpf's at 1:30. The two farms adjoin and are located two miles north, two miles west and a half-mile north of Dresden.

Gerken made his first seedling of fescue and timothy in 1952. Another field was seeded in 1953. He put 200 pounds of 12-12-12 on the field last spring and carried 25 cows and their calves through last year from April to August. He also had 15 calves there all fall and winter. This spring he applied 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate and has had 15 head on it since March 1.

Rumpf seeded his first ten acres of orchard grass in February, 1955. It was headed by May and carried 28 ewes and their lambs. Another ten acres was seeded that fall and the two fields carried 50 ewes the past summer. He seeded another 20 acres in the spring of 1956 but lost it. That was reseeded this spring and is doing very well. He plans to add 125 pounds of ammonium nitrate soon.

Reds Parade On May Day

Zhukov Assures Vast Crowd Russia Can Defend Itself

(By The Associated Press)

The Communists held the center of the stage today in most May Day celebrations around the world. There were the usual parades, rallies and a rash of anti-Western speeches to mark labor's day outside the United States.

Red orators in Europe and Asia denounced Western "imperialism" and boasted of Communist efforts to attain world peace.

The Kremlin again paraded some of its military might through Moscow's Red Square while jet fighters and bombers streaked overhead.

First reports made no mention of any new planes or weapons on view.

Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov assured the vast crowd in Red Square that Russian military forces have all "the modern means of combat necessary to rout any aggressor."

Zhukov accused the United States of imperiling peace by deciding to "station atomic units on territories of other countries." But much of his speech was devoted to declarations of Russia's peaceful desires and pleas for peaceful coexistence.

Satellite Czechoslovakia's Communist party secretary, Antonin Novotny, assailed "imperialists desiring to increase international tension." He charged that the "monopolists" in the U.S. government, "hope to create a new firebrand in Europe—remilitarized West Germany which they want to equip with atomic weapons." Novotny spoke after a workers' parade in Prague's Vavrovsky Square.

In Budapest, Red Premier Janos Kadar will make his first major public speech since Soviet tanks crushed satellite Hungary's bid for freedom last fall.

President Tito keyed the Yugoslav celebrations with an announcement that the forthcoming meeting of his Communist party would pave the way for "abandonment of certain old concepts and methods of the world." Observers saw in this an indication Yugoslavia intended to develop further its independent brand of communism so roundly condemned by Moscow.

Half a million chanting Chinese paraded in Peking before Red China's boss Mao Tse-tung. Soviet President Klementi Y. Voroshilov and other foreign Red leaders were in the reviewing stand. In front of the Gate of Heavenly Peace, Premier Chou En-lai set a peace and industry theme in his speech, terming foreign friendships essential so "that China can build itself into an industrialized country."

In Tokyo, about 500,000 Japanese milled about Meiji Plaza while Communist and leftist leaders delivered speeches against the H-bomb and U. S. militarism. The crowd appeared peaceful, however, and more intent on taking snapshots than listening to the orators.

The Argentine provisional government braced for trouble in Buenos Aires as word went out that the Communists planned to infiltrate a May Day labor rally.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts has taken a similar stand. Knowland left the impression that in spite of his own stand on the budget matter he still favors taking the administration case to the people.

In addition to parting company with the administration on spending plans, Knowland has differed with Eisenhower on such questions as giving money to states and communities to help meet the schoolroom shortage.

But Knowland said the question of his stepping out as minority leader because of such differences didn't arise in today's huddle with Eisenhower.

"I intend to continue as leader," Knowland said. Ahead of the White House session Knowland pledged his best efforts to keep Congress in session until it acts on civil rights and other important segments of the Eisenhower program.

Marshallite Receives Merit Scholarship

Winners of the largest scholarship competition ever conducted in the U.S. were announced today as 830 brilliant teenagers were named the Merit Scholars of 1957.

Among them was J. Irvin Williams, Marshall, a student at Marshall High School, who won a scholarship to Reed College, Portland, Ore., in physics.

The Merit Scholars and the colleges they have chosen to attend will share over $4 million in scholarship aid provided by 57 companies and foundations. The nationwide competition is conducted by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation which annually searches the nation for its most able high school seniors.

Over 162,000 students—more than 10 per cent of the country's entire high school senior enrollment—entered the competition as the nominees of 12,500 high schools. The winners survived two rigorous college aptitude tests and displayed high personal achievement in winning the most sought-after awards available to high school students.

Each Merit Scholarship provides its winner with the funds he needs to attend the college of his choice for four years. Family resources, summer earnings of the student, and college costs are all considered in determining the amount that accompanies each award. The grants to the Merit Scholars named today vary from a minimum honorary award of $100 a year for the four college years to over $2,000 a year in cases of great need. The average student's stipend is about $650 a year.

Each Merit Scholar has selected the accredited college he prefers to attend. Since tuition seldom covers the actual cost of educating a student, each Merit Scholarship includes an educational supplement for the college to help it defray its costs in educating a Merit Scholar.

Merit Scholarships are named after the companies and other private groups that provide the funds for the awards. The largest sponsor is the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, which awards 100 of these scholarships annually at a cost of $500,000.

The list of companies and foundations sponsoring the 1957 awards includes such nationally known names as International Business Machines; F. W. Woolworth; General Foods; Pittsburgh Plate Glass; Time, Inc.; Commercial Investment Trust; National Distillers; Upjohn; Standard Oil (Ind.); B. F. Goodrich; International Nickel, and many others.

T. V. Houser, chairman of the board of Sears-Roebuck and Company, in congratulating the new Merit Scholars, called particular attention to the value of the scholarships to colleges.

"We are particularly pleased that the 100 Sears Foundation Merit Scholars have enrolled in 80 different institutions of learn-

Judge Grants Divorce For Solo Honeymoon

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A groom pecked his bride of only an hour on the cheek, whispered "I'm scared" and left for his mother's home in Lake County. That was in 1954.

The bride, Mrs. Sherry (Sherry) Martinez, told Superior Court Judge Ben Currier that so far as she knows her husband still is on the solo honeymoon.

"I guess some men are just mama's boys," said Sherry.

The judge granted an annulment.

ing, the majority of which are either small or medium sized liberal arts colleges. It is becoming increasingly apparent that the Merit Scholarship Program is proving to be of help to the small institutions and is an important means whereby they can help solve their financial plight," declared Houser.

The Merit Scholars represent a composite of high mental ability plus all-around good citizenship. Some 7,200 students became qualifiers for the awards by their high scores on college aptitude tests. A committee of eight prominent educators then made the final evaluations and included leadership, citizenship, and extra-curricular achievements in its considerations.

Friendly Restaurant Has Disturbance That Brings Police

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—They call it the Friendly Restaurant, and the management is pretty proud of that reputation. Yesterday began as did every other day, everybody real friendly.

Then, according to testimony in Magistrate Court, pleasantries among a couple of groups of men and girls turned to jeers and then to even worse. Saucers, plates and salt shakers whistled back and forth.

A police sergeant tried to break it up. He took a beating.

Somebody sent out what amounted to a riot call. That brought 14 more policemen. They put an end to the fight.

Six men were charged with disorderly conduct but eventually were discharged by Magistrate M. Philip Freed.

Oscar May Give Dorothy Malone Boost

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This may be the first time that Oscar has given Cupid a boost. In Dorothy Malone's case, it could happen.

The pitch is this: In the past two years, Dorothy has made 10 pictures, with scarcely a breathing spell in between. This naturally forestalled any chance for romance.

"I could go out on the weekend while I was working," she remarked, "but it was impossible to date during the week. I had to study my lines and get up early in the morning."

But now she's the winner of an Academy Award and can afford to slow down her film-making pace. She has four big films finished and unreleased, so she doesn't have to worry about being absent from the nation's screens.

Having predicted the Oscar for her, I peered further in her crystal ball and told her there would be a man in her future.

"I don't know," she sighed, "it seems like a hopeless case."

Hopeless! There's something wrong with the American male if that is true. Dorothy's physical assets are obvious: a lovely face, wavy blonde hair, nifty figure. What's more, she's bright and breezy, a regular gal.

Only once has she come close to marriage. That was after her early film career had begun auspiciously and then fizzled. She went back home to Dallas and fell in love with a local boy.

"We were very fond of each other," she said, "and so were our families. But we decided it just wouldn't work out for us to get married."

She came back to Hollywood and resumed her career, starting out slowly and proving herself in roles that grew in importance. Her latest assignment is opposite Robert Taylor in "Tip on a Dead Jockey."

Miss Mary Rapp Becomes Bride Of J. Nolting

Miss Mary Ellen Rapp, daughter of the late Delmar and Rachel Rapp of Stover, became the bride of Frederick Dean Nolting, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nolting, Stover, Friday April 26, at the First Baptist Church in Stover. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Waaley.

Ronnie Nolting, brother of the groom, and Terry Merriott, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles. Preceding the ceremony Miss Judy Stevinson, cousin of the bride, played "Always". The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Orlyn Merriott, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white taffeta and lace with chiffon overskirt. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a lace hat. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Her only attendant, Miss Donna Holsten, wore a light blue street length dress. Her pink carnation corsage was attached to the navy blue sash.

Kenneth Nolting served as his brother's best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement.

Mrs. Delbert Bormann, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Raymond Stevinson, and Mrs. Irvin Gerlt, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Calvin Viebrock, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Vincil Huffman, sister of the bride, served the cake and punch.

The groom is employed at Story-Smithton Factory in Stover and the bride is attending Stover High School.

Promoting Budget Cut

Boston Businessmen Re-enact Famous Tea Party Monday

BOSTON (AP)—A group of Boston businessmen—their heads capped with colored bands and Indian feathers—will re-enact the Boston Tea Party next Monday to spark sentiment for slashing the federal budget.

A troop of Boy Scouts dressed as Indians will stand near the site of Griffin Wharf, scene of the original tea party, while the two-masted schooner "Tabor Boy" pushes gently into Boston harbor for a short distance.

Then the staid businessmen with the feathers on their heads will toss empty tea crates into the water. The crates will carry such legends as: "Waste in Government" and "Super Bureaucracy," according to the national affairs committee of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce.

The committee is sponsoring the simulated Boston Tea Party as the opening act of "a new England tax rally day."

Chairman Paul Rothwell said the purpose is to engender "grass roots" sentiment for slashing "wasteful and unnecessary items" from the $71.8 billion federal budget.

Rothwell said his group feels that as much as five billion dollars can be cut from the budget without impairment of essential service. On display will be the tea urn which King George, 3rd, was using at the time of the original tea party in 1773.

Principal speaker at the rally will be U. S. Sen. Byrd (D-Va.). His subject: "The budget can be cut." Another speaker will be Rep. Judd (R-Minn.).

A panel discussion on federal spending will have such participants as Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass), Sen. Bridges (R-NH) and Clem D. Johnson of Roanoke, Va., chairman of the executive committee of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Rothwell explained that the purpose of the 1957 tea party is to dramatize "the growing danger of economic power vested in government departments which have no direct constitutional responsibility to the people of this nation."

A tablet marks the spot where formerly stood Griffin Wharf. It records that in Dec. 1773 "about ninety citizens of Boston partly disguised as Indians boarded the ships (three British vessels) and threw their cargoes, three hundred and forty-two chests in all, into the sea, and made the world ring with the patriotic exploit of the Boston Tea Party."

"No ne'er was mingled such a draught In palace, hall or arbor, As freemen brewed and tyrants quaffed That night in Boston harbor."

These findings were reported to the California Medical Assn. by a group of investigators headed by Dr. L. S. Goerke, assistant dean of the Public Health School of the University of California at Los Angeles.

The electrocardiogram had a batting average of only 29.3 percent in diagnosing heart disease in normal people who were found to have suspicious signs. It showed abnormal readings in 249 persons who later were found to have no heart trouble.

The study included X-ray examinations which showed 698 of the group had abnormal heart shadows but further tests determined that 544 of them had no cardiac trouble. Thirty months later 60 of these 544 had either heart disease or potential cardiac trouble or were dead. Not all of these deaths, however, were from heart causes.

Dr. Goerke said the tests indicated the prevalence of heart disease among the general population is 73 per 1,000 persons.

US Warning System Gets New Wire Circuit

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The nation's attack warning system gets a shot in the arm today at Ent Air Force Base.

The switch will be thrown on a 24-hour leased wire system that will make it possible to notify civil defense directors in all 48 states in a minute's time.

They'll be alerted simultaneously with an announcement by voice.

The old system of relays—some areas notified and those passing the word along—took from 10 to 30 minutes.

Money Saved in Cans Is Taken by Burglar

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—For about three years, an elderly independence couple saved money from the husband's income as a sign painter.

Fred W. Schmitz, who is almost 70, and his wife planned to buy a small house.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmitz accumulated their savings in $10, $20 and $100 bills, wrapped them in separate packages and hid them in a paint can in the basement of their home.

Yesterday, Mrs. Schmitz told police a burglar had stolen $5,000 of the money. For some reason, the thief took only the $100 bills.

Mrs. Schmitz thinks the money was stolen more than a month ago when she and her husband visited neighbors at night.

"When we returned our back door was open," she said. "We never thought then of looking in the can."

Oak Grove Approves School Bond Issue

IN THE WHALE'S MOUTH—The attendant at Marineland in Palos Verdes, Calif., is no Jonah, nor is the picture a fake. Actually it is the first photo made of the feeding of the only whale in captivity. It took the personnel at Marineland two months to train the whale to answer chow call. Normally, the big mammal travels around the bottom of the tank, but now when lunchtime comes he veers straight up for a handout of squid.

Dunklin Medical Society Protests Vaccine Order

KENNETT, Mo. (AP)—The Dunklin Medical Society voted last night to undertake the state's new polio vaccine program, but to take part only under protest.

The State Health Division said yesterday a new lot of polio vaccine ordered for distribution through public health clinics will be administered without charge or consideration of ability to pay.

Gov. James T. Blair announced that 554,000 cc of Salk vaccine had been ordered for Missouri under a federal grant.

Physicians here objected to federal regulations ordering dissemination without regard to ability to pay.

Dr. George Dummire said it is a "matter of principle." He called it a "trend toward socialized medicine" and declared "if they keep on trying to push this sort of thing down our throats that's what we'll have."

Dr. R. L. Palenske said it's a case of the federal government telling us how to practice.

The doctors said they will give vaccine to some persons who can't afford it but objected to the federal regulation.

The society also obtained permission from H. M. Hardwick, director of the State Division of health, to administer the vaccine in their own offices and in the county hospital. Previous plans called for the vaccine to be given at six of the 10 district high schools.

Defendants in Liquor Trials Ask Re-trials

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Attorneys for all 16 defendants convicted last week of conspiring to violate U. S. liquor laws have filed motions for new trials.

Eight new trial bids were entered in U. S. District Court yesterday. The other eight were filed Monday. All alleged judicial errors.

Last Friday a jury convicted the men on charges they conspired to import liquor into dry Oklahoma—a misdemeanor carrying a maximum sentence of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine. Included among those convicted were Police Commissioner Jay L. Jones and suspended Police Chief Paul J. Livingston.

Woman Electrocuted By Wire in Back Yard

NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Thompson, 26, was electrocuted while watering her garden. Sheriff's deputies said her wet feet touched an electric wire strung by her husband to keep the dog out of flower beds.

Detective Sgt. Ray Hopkinson said the husband, Neil, had hitched the wire to a series of 60-watt bulbs, believing that would cut voltage down to a harmless level.

Knowland Pledges Efforts on Action For Civil Rights Bill

By JACK BELL WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) pledged his best efforts today to keep Congress in session until it acts on civil rights legislation and other important segments of President Eisenhower's program.

Knowland, Senate Republican leader, said that so far as he is concerned a proposal by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) for Senate meetings three days a week will hold only as long as a series of regular money bills are under consideration.

Democratic Leader Johnson announced yesterday he wants the Senate to meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays while it acts on a series of appropriations measures this month.

Arizona Couple Gets Extra Refugee Family And All Are to Stay

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Mama Czapar got more than she bargained for when she and her husband agreed to sponsor a Hungarian refugee family.

At the railroad station the other night, a Hungarian family of six stepped off the train. Then two more Hungarians, both men. Then a couple with two children. All 12 were bound for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Czapar.

The Czapars, none of whose relatives escaped from Hungary, agreed to the extra family of four at the last minute because the Catholic Relief Service said the child has asthma and needs the climate of the Southwest.

One family is living in a house owned by the Czapars, the other with Mrs. Czapar's daughter, the two men with the Czapars themselves.

"We always got room for one more," said Mrs. Czapar. "Besides, we own a grocery store."

SEDALIA MAN AWARDED—A Sedalia man, Dee O. Van Winkle, (right) 1807 South Carr, received several top awards at the annual sales conference of the Security Benefit Life Insurance Company held at Camelback Inn., Phoenix, Ariz., this week.

Van Winkle and his wife attended the conference as guests of the 65-year-old mutual, legal reserve life insurance company which has its home office in Topeka, Kas. Nixon Says Revolts Were Just Beginning

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Nixon says that last year's uprisings in Poland and Hungary were just the beginning of an internal revolt that will ultimately sweep away the Communist empire.

"The leaders of the Kremlin know their armies are not reliable," Nixon said in a speech last night.

"They realize that unrest and dissension are barely hidden in their colleges and universities. They are aware of the grumblings and doubts in the ranks of the Communist party itself."

Nixon spoke to a joint meeting of the American Jewish Committee and the Antidefamation League of B'nai B'rith.

Nixon said the "brave fighters of Hungary were subdued by overwhelming force" and that freedom in Poland "is strictly limited."

"But the fact that these uprisings occurred proves two important truths," he said. "They show that the desire for freedom is so deep in the heart of man that neither the tyranny of secret police nor the brainwashing of unending propaganda can make men believe that slavery is freedom or that lies are truth."

Nixon gave no indication of whether he was reflecting the views of other Eisenhower administration officials.

Alabama Court Rejects Appeal of Minister On Boycott Conviction

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Court of Appeals has thrown out an appeal of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. from a conviction of violating an antiboycott law during the yearlong bus boycott by Negroes.

The court said yesterday a transcript of testimony in the Negro minister's trial in March 1956 wasn't filed within the appeal time and that no extension of time was asked. The court didn't go into the merits of the case.

King was fined $500 and costs when he appealed. The fine was converted into a 386-day jail sentence and suspended.

Ninety Negroes were indicted by a Montgomery County grand jury in early 1956 on charges of violating Alabama's antiboycott law during the mass refusal to ride segregated city buses. Trials of the other 89 were postponed while King's conviction was appealed as a test case.

Senator Says Major Powers Don't Want To Engage in War

CAIRO (AP) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) says he is "not pessimistic" about the danger of war breaking out in the troubled Middle East.

"The major powers don't want to engage in a suicidal war and there is not much chance of the smaller countries doing so," Humphrey told reporters last night after he talked almost three hours with President Nasser.

Humphrey, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on the Near East, is making a fact-finding tour of the area. He arrived in Cairo Monday.

Teenagers Say Family Spending Habits Okay, But Not Their Own

More than half of the young people surveyed take part in planning the family's finances.

By EUGENE GILBERT
Somebody ought to declare this the "Be Kind to Parents Week," because young people have just told us they are more or less satisfied with the way the old folks are handling the family finances.

But some, surprisingly, feel that too much money is being spent on them and almost all have suggestions to offer to improve the family financial position.

Our nationwide survey shows that 31 per cent of young people think their families handle money well all the time and 63 per cent approve of their parents' spending most of the time.

Nevertheless they would have some changes made:

"We have just about everything we want," said a Missouri farm girl, "but I wish the folks would spend more on things for the house and ourselves and less on cows." "I would allocate a good deal more for my parents' entertainment," asserted a Port Chester, N. Y., youth. Many of those polled echoed his sentiments.

"I don't approve of the extremes of economy practiced by my family on even the smallest purchases," said a 19-year-old from Ohio. But, the survey also showed 4 per cent of young people think their folks seldom or hardly ever manage the family budget well. Comments from this group were outspoken and, at times, bitter.

"If only they would invest a small part of the family income regularly in bonds," exclaimed a Brooklyn boy. "That would solve the whole problem."

"My parents just don't know how to spend money — it's too much here, not enough there," said an Iowa girl. "Maybe someday they'll learn. I hope when it's not too late."

"They're so busy trying to keep up with the Joneses they don't have time to breathe much less pay bills," said another girl.

"They drink up all the money," said a Chicago 18-year-old. "I would spend more on food and clothes instead of liquor. My father should try to better himself and not be satisfied with $45 a week."

A remarkable 92 per cent of the young people surveyed said they thought the children of the family receive a sufficient share in its income. Many thought they got too much.

"Along with lots of other families, mine spends far more on their children than they can really afford," said one boy.

"In our family, the kids come before the parents," declared another.

"They waste more money on presents and entertainment," complained a Pittsburgh youth. "We should have fewer refreshments at home and smaller and less frequent presents. The finances are handled almost completely for the benefit of us three children."

Slightly more than half the young people take part in planning family expenses — 4 per cent all the time and 48 per cent some of the time.

But, only 31 per cent expressed a desire to be taken more into their parents' confidence on family money matters.

Evidently the young people are satisfied with the part they play or simply do not have the interest in family finances.

Comments obtained in the survey tend to back this up.

"I don't care what my parents do with their money," said a Springfield, Mass., girl. "It's their business."

"Children should be given a part in planning finances as soon as they are old enough," declared a Butler, Mo., miss.

Roughly three out of four of the young people said they know, at least approximately, the extent of the family income and about the same number said they thought it fills the family financial need.

"Our budget is as balanced as is possible in these crazy times," reported one young sage.

"In some families," said another, "you need a lot of money and in some not so much. We do all right without a great deal."

About 15 per cent of the young people said they thought the family spends more money than it should and their comments and suggestions were highly critical.

"They (the parents) try to live too high class and often have to borrow from the bank on their securities," said an Amherst, Mass., youth. "This is certainly not the way I'm going to live."

"We live above our income which is unsteady in the first place," said a North Carolina teen-ager. "I would approve of more equitable distribution, more planning, less extravagance."

But the 81 per cent who approved of their parents' spending habits had high praise for the old folks.

"They are smart. They look ahead," enthused a Tarrytown, N. Y., youth.

"We have the perfect system,"

General Electric 5-Day Strike Halts For Arbitration

LYNN, Mass. (AP)—A decision to arbitrate differences has ended a five-day strike that idled 20,500 working on defense contracts at the five Lynn and Everett plants of General Electric Co.

The factories make jet engine parts and steam turbines.

A committee of 15 clergymen summoned management and union negotiators to try for a quick settlement of the strike.

The grievances, now to be sent to arbitration, involved compulsory overtime, suspension of a shop steward and company policy of employee transfers. The union involved is the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Meanwhile, a General Electric work stoppage went into its seventh day at plants at Hudson Falls, N. Y., and nearby Fort Edwards, N. Y. The plants employ about 1,625 workers. Of that number, the United Electrical Workers Union (independent) claims to represent 725 production workers.

Members of the union's Local 332 voted 395-346 to continue a strike yesterday.

The New York plants make electric motors and capacitors for fluorescent lights. The work stoppage grew out of a dispute over reduction of piecework parts in one department.

Found Premium List of Earlier Fair Days Here

J. D. Williams, St. Francis Hotel, has a copy of the catalogue and premium list for the ninth annual meeting of the Missouri State Fair Association that was held August 14, 1888, and the following four days at the exposition grounds at the Sedalia Driving Park with race tracks in west Sedalia. A large acreage was embraced in the area.

The premium list carried an exceptionally large number of awards and prizes both in cash and merchandise, the specials being chiefly from Sedalia merchants of those days.

Various amusements were provided and the winners on entries in the several departments received clothing, shoes, cigars, and gifts in addition to the regular premium list.

The premium list was turned over to Mr. Williams in a fair state of preservation after it had been found by a man from Kansas City who had been engaged in razing some of the buildings on East Fifth before erection of the building for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The Association officers were: N. H. Gentry, president; F. E. Hoffman, vice - president; Chris Hye, second vice-president; James Montgomery, secretary; John B. Jaynes, treasurer; N. H. Gentry, general superintendent; Joseph B.

HOW PLYMOUTH'S BIG ECONOMY WIN AFFECTS YOU!

If you're an average driver, you wouldn't have had a chance in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. It takes seasoned professionals to win in this kind of competition.

Every car of every make entered in the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run was a new 1957 stock model. Every car was carefully tuned for the Run and the cars were piloted by real experts in this exacting kind of driving. Naturally, the mileage they got is higher than the figure you can expect.

The way this race—and all previous Mobilgas Economy Runs—was judged is another area that should interest you:

Cars of different weights and engine displacements cannot compete on an equal basis. Such a competition would produce misleading miles-per-gallon figures. If miles-per-gallon were the only consideration, a motor bike could run away with first place. Obviously, other factors must be considered.

In order to give all cars a fair chance, the engineers used ton-miles-per-gallon as their yardstick—and as a basis for the official Mobilgas Economy Run prizes. This establishes a definite relationship between gasoline consumed, distance traveled, and weight carried. It is the only measure of gasoline economy that has any real significance to the engineers—or to you as an average motorist.

Now look at the results of the Run with the above thoughts in mind: Plymouth swept its field—First Place winner in "Class A," the division that included all the well-known low-price cars. As certified by the United States Automobile Club, Plymouth's official ton-miles-per-gallon led the entire "Class A" field.

Bear in mind, too, that Plymouth's winning mark was set using a V-8 engine with TorqueFlite automatic transmission. Several of the losing cars in Plymouth's division used 6-cylinder engines—supposedly more economical. But Plymouth beat every car in sight, 6's and V-8's alike.

But here's what Plymouth's victory does mean to you: The Plymouth you buy at your Plymouth dealer's is the same, engine for engine, part for part, as the Plymouth that won the Mobilgas Economy Run.

The superior engineering that enabled Plymouth to run away with first place is built into every Plymouth. And that means you can expect economy that will save you real money in ordinary driving.

So before you invest a dime in any automobile, it's to your advantage to compare all three low-price cars. Compare them for economy... for beauty... for riding and handling ease... for performance. Then make your decision.

Only Plymouth dares to make so bold a challenge, because only Plymouth, of the low-price 3, has so many three-years-ahead features, yet leads its field in day-in, day-out economy.

Prove it to yourself. Your Plymouth dealer will be glad to give you a guest drive at your convenience.

The most beautiful—and most economical—car in its class:

Sabine River Leaves Banks, Others Recede

DALLAS (AP)—The upper Sabine River, at its greatest height in history, went out of its banks around Gladewater but the threat of major floods on other Texas rivers eased slightly today.

Oil wells in the petroleum-rich Gladewater area stopped pumping because of high water. The river flowed out three-quarters of a mile on the southwest side of town. There were no residents in the immediate area.

Meanwhile, the drowning toll climbed to 13 in the 14 days of Texas floods. Latest victim reported was Earl Thomas, 27, a prisoner who was sent out to "make tracks" for bloodhound training and drowned in a flooded ravine.

Absence of further damaging rains west of the Sabine helped relieve flood threats on the Colorado, Nueces, Guadalupe, Trinity and Brazos rivers.

But families still were being evacuated in some low areas, the floods crept over bottom land fields which were in the drought disaster area only a few weeks ago, and some persons still were isolated by high water.

Police Sgt. Melvin Farrar said in Gladewater, "The Texas Co. has shut down some 60 odd oil wells, and may close some more."

"The river is easing on out," he said. "Eleven families have been evacuated as a precaution, and there will be several more before it's all over with. If it keeps going, it will threaten the federal housing project which has about 150 people living in it. People are storing stuff, and moving up town."

The main part of Gladewater is protected by levees.

One man isolated himself so he could remain to operate a water pump on the Trinity River at Trinity, Tex.

He was Jim Elliott, who has been marooned five days. For a time, food was delivered to him by boat. Then his suppliers left him the boat so he could flee if his little station goes under.

"It's pretty scary down here," he told one supply team. But he appeared happy about one thing: "I haven't had to shave," he said.

The State Highway Department listed more than 55 highways and feeder roads blocked by high water or washouts.

Federal Civil Defense chief Welcome W. Wilson called the floods "a disaster of great proportions." State Disaster Relief Director Bill McGill said about 35,000 square miles already were affected by floods and the area will grow much larger "if the Sabine gets loose."

The Sabine appeared the worst threat, although the crest of that sluggish river was not expected to reach downriver communities for several days.

The Sabine at Gladewater reached 39.95 feet early today, 18.95 above flood stage and well above the 36.7 feet of the previous highest water, recorded in 1933. A crest of 44 feet was expected by Saturday.

Gives Way to Law
NEW YORK (AP)—Columbia University has found more students want to be lawyers than theater writers, designers and directors.

The university has announced discontinuance of the School of Dramatic Arts. Established in 1947, it will wind up activities as currently enrolled scholars complete work.

The drama building will be demolished and replaced by a law school.

Benson Will Submit New Farm Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson says his suggestions for revising federal farm programs will be submitted soon to the Senate Agriculture Committee.

The secretary made the statement yesterday to a Senate Appropriations subcommittee, which is working on a record-breaking five billion dollar farm money bill.

The appropriations group summoned additional Agriculture Department officials for questioning today.

Benson indicated he will urge more flexible and lower government price supports, expanded production and less government control of planting, and a return to competition with world price levels.

He had mentioned most of these proposed changes to newsmen in March.

"I'd like to move in the direction of expanded acreage, expanded production and making our prices competitive," the secretary told Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) during one exchange yesterday.

Stennis and Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) chairman of the appropriations subcommittee, had protested that acreage controls are forcing many poor farmers off the farms or into permanent poverty.

Earlier Benson told Russell that extensive exports of surplus cotton, wheat and other farm crops under heavy subsidies had greatly improved domestic price levels.

He said this, under present laws, could push government price supports so high they might create new surpluses in these crops.

Russell asked Benson point blank if he wanted to remove the present price support floor, which now is 75 per cent of parity for crops listed by law as basic.

"There should be considerable flexibility," Benson replied.

There have been reports the secretary wants to junk the present 75 to 90 per cent of parity for one of zero to 90 per cent.

United Church Women's Annual Luncheon Friday

The United Church Women will meet at the Wesley Methodist Church at 12:30 on Friday for the annual May Fellowship Luncheon.

The theme will be "Free Schools in a Free America," a subject and program which will interest both church women and members of the PTA and civic organizations.

Senator C. R. "Ted" Hawkins will be the principal speaker.

In 1949 the National Citizens Committee for Public Schools was organized with the goal of alerting Americans to the problems of their schools and to help convert the aroused interest into intelligent action.

The committee was only set up for a six-year study. It ceased to function in January, 1956, and the National Citizens Council for Better Schools is its successor, with the same goals, that of alerting citizens to the needs for better schools and helping attain them on a local and state level, and expanding school programs to include the exceptional child.

The council is functioning to help citizens everywhere who are working for better public schools. It feels the best method to reach the goals is through neighborhood planning and community conferences.

The council puts out 15 booklets which may be procured for help. It has received its initial financing from the Carnegie Corporation, a companion of the Carnegie Library project.

Mrs. R. E. Gerster is chairman of the luncheon. Mrs. D. F. Richards, chairman of the Church Woman, Mrs. Elmer Maune, devotion chairman and Mrs. M. O. Stevens, chairman of music.

Mrs. Herbert Studer is general chairman of the annual meeting.

Financier Tells Group He Made Quick Profit On Airlines Stock

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert R. Snodgrass, Atlanta, Ga., financier and politician, testified today he made a quick profit on Northeast Airlines stock last August after receiving a report the airline might be awarded a New York-Miami run.

But Snodgrass, Republican national committeeman for Georgia, said he had no idea any improper "leak" of information might be involved and would not have made the stock deal if he had known that.

Snodgrass said he made the purchase, and also bought 500 shares for his wife, after receiving a telephone call from Robert L. Griffith, assistant to the president of Delta Airlines, which also had bid for the route.

The CAB voted 3-2 the night of Aug. 2 to award the profitable route to Northeast but did not announce its decision officially until Aug. 10.

There was heavy trading in Northeast stock on Aug. 3, the day after the CAB's secret decision, and successive days. A Senate Investigations subcommittee is trying to find out if "leaks" of information on the decision enabled speculators to profit on the company's stock.

William Riecke, Lewis Granemann, Max Elliott, John Christian and Harry Kline.

Burial was in the Ionia Cemetery.

Ike Wants to Leave Office With Larger Tax Cut Than 1954
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared today that he would like to go out of office "with an even bigger tax cut" than in 1954.

But he said that all he would like to accomplish in the field of economy and tax reduction comes back finally to the problem of foreign policy. His stand was that big savings depend on peaceful developments in the world.

And, upholding his foreign aid program, he urged: "Let's not throw away one of the engines of the ship of state."

Eisenhower talked about foreign policy and aid for nearly 20 minutes in an off-the-cuff speech in the White House rose garden to the National Council of the League of Women Voters of the United States. He bubbled along eloquently and sometimes emotionally.

Bill Stephens Ranks First As 4-H Judge

Bill Stephens of the Longwood Neighbors 4-H Club ranked first in total points in the Pettis County 4-H Livestock Judging Day held Saturday at the Joe Bill Reid and Tom Ream farm. A total of 49 people attended one or more of the judging sessions Saturday.

The total score from a possible score of 800 for each of the 4-H members that judged all five classes of livestock were as follows: Bill Stephens, 575; Robert Leftwich, 530; Carl Wagner, 515; Albert Anderson, Jr., 510; Lester Wagner, 510; Joyce Stephens, 495; Bill Raines, 490; Bill Wall, 445; Dean Raines, 430; Danny Smith, 425; Nancy Majors, 390; and Michael Riley, 320.

The high ranking scores in each of the judging divisions were: Sheep—Bill Stephens, 180; Bill Raines, 155; Albert Anderson, Jr., 150; Dean Raines, 130; and Robert Leftwich, 130. Hogs—Larry Schouten, 210; Bill Stephens, 205; Everett Blackburn, 200; and Carl Wagner, 200. Beef Cattle—Joyce Stephens, 255; George Schutte, 235; Mark Peters, 235; Lester Wagner, 215; Jerry Meyer, 210; Robert Leftwich, 215; Carl Wagner, 200; and Danny Smith, 200.

Other 4-H members judging were: James Whealy, Mary Kay Hayes, John Dunham, Roy Major, Joe Blackburn, Eddie Schouten, Tommy Reid, Dale Montgomery, John Greer, and Mikel Gerke.

Adults attending and other 4-H members who did not judge were: Marvin Schouten, J. W. Raines, Forrest Reid, Jimmy Reid, Bill Reid, Joe Bill Reid, James Chaney, Hubert Finley, Oscar Major, Paul Stephens, Albert Anderson, G. W. Meyer, George Teter, John Greer, Leo H. Gerke, John Wall, Tom Ream, Gene Wagner, Leland Finley, Billy Schouten, Cecil Gerke and Charles Gerke.

The group judged a class of Oxford breeding ewes, Hampshire sows and Hampshire market hogs at Joe Bill Reid's, and a class of Angus breeding heifers and a class of Angus steers at Tom Ream's.

The county extension agent pointed out what to look for when judging livestock. Some of the 4-H officials served as official judges and others held the animals while the 4-H members were judging.

The purpose of the County 4-H Livestock Judging Day was to give the 4-H members an idea what to look for when picking out livestock for themselves, to give training for those older 4-H members who wanted to try out for the county livestock judging team, and to train younger 4-H members for future livestock judging.

As stated in a letter to 4-H members, those 4-H members wishing to try out for the county 4-H livestock judging team should have judged all five classes. The scores on this meeting will not count in the score of the 4-H members trying out for the livestock judging team as this was a practice session. The 4-H members who judged all five classes are eligible to try out for the county 4-H livestock judging team, but those who were 14 years old by Jan. 1, 1937, will be given first preference as members of the 4-H livestock judging team as members of the 4-H livestock judging team must be 14 years old to enter state competition.

If those members 14 years old and older do not rank too well in the other practice sessions then the 4-H members under 14 years old will be considered for the team even though they can judge only at the district event.

Fall Can Come In Spring

A quick drive around town indicates there's quite a bit of ladder work going on around Sedalia's premises—visible, of course, outside. It doesn't take a Peeping Tom to determine there's more ladder activity inside Sedalia homes because this is Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week.

Spring fever has afflicted residents who just can't get underway, but those who have started are wondering if they will ever get through the summer before finishing.

In the meantime, about those ladders. They may be harbingers of spring, but they are also signs of fall. The kind of fall that lands the climber on his noggin or elsewhere if he or she isn't careful. True there are other kinds of falls, too, which make this type of accident the No. 2 killer, according to the National Safety Council. So it is appropriate to pass this information along to the ladies who ought to be the safety engineers in their homes. They can do a lot to reduce the annual toll of 13,100 accidental fall deaths in the home by thinking of the fall during spring house cleaning.

Despite the practice in nearly every home, it is foolish to reach high places by climbing on boxes or unsteady chairs.

And just as nutty is the practice of sitting on a window sash to wash outside windows, or stagger down stairs with loads of bedding, soiled clothes, or other objects that are too heavy or which obstruct vision.

How many times are the cleaning tools and the vacuum hose left on the floor for someone to trip over, or spilled soapy water left on stairs for someone to step into and skid to eternity or the hospital.

Clean Up Week can be an annual enthusiastic community project of which housecleaning is a major part. But it can also bring tragedy just because people aren't careful enough about observing minor safety rules. For instance it is amazing how many people ignore the use of hand rails on stairways.

Deaths and injuries due to falls do not all occur on Clean Up Week, to be sure. But this is time for emphasis on the No. 2 accident killer with the hope the public will become more accident conscious and begin to check and eliminate all fall hazards every day of the year.

Remember falls of all kinds killed 20,000 persons in 1956—a rate of 55 persons each day.

Moscow Stirring Trouble In Panama

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It's being hushed up, but CIA Director Allen Dulles has warned that the Russians have launched a big propaganda campaign to convince Panama to follow Egypt's Suez lead and seize the Panama Canal. Allen, able younger brother of the secretary of state, believes this may produce a big crisis right in your own wide-yard.

Unlike the Suez Canal, the Panama Canal runs through territory the United States government bought and paid for many years ago. But this doesn't faze the Russians. They are telling the Panamanians they have a right to revoke the sale, and could then get rich on canal tolls.

Chiang Kai-Shek Protests

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has sent a frantic message to President Eisenhower, pleading that he not allow American reporters to visit Red China.

The cable followed on the heels of Dulles's revelation that he is ready to lift the travel ban which has been keeping newsmen away.

Chiang warned that visits by reporters would be disastrous to his prestige in the Far East. Chances are the White House will ignore his protests.

Nasser Plot Reversed

It will never be admitted, but a British plot to kill Dictator Nasser has been quietly reversed. British operatives in Egypt are now under orders, ironically, to keep Nasser alive at all costs.

Reason is that the British now believe Nasser's likely successor would be more dangerous than the wily dictator himself. Nasser has surrounded himself with so many Communist sympathizers that the Reds would probably take over Egypt completely in case of his demise.

U. S. Agents were aware of the original British assassination plot — which may seem like a drastic solution to the Egyptian problem, but it's the way politics are played in the intrigue-ridden Middle East. U. S. Agents report that the British changed signals after concluding the assassination strategy would boomerang.

They figured the Reds would make a martyr of Nasser, using his death to stir up Arab emotions and take over the government. Nasser's probable successor would be Lt. Col. Zakaria Mohi El-Din, now minister of interior, who controls the secret police. Absolutely ruthless, he is considered a Moscow stooge.

Next most powerful person in the Egyptian government is Minister of Education Kamel Ad-Din Hussein, another follower of the Moscow line, who also commands the so-called "National Liberation Army." As an example of his brand of "Education," he recently called on Egyptian students to hate the western "enemy."

"Smash him, kill him, exterminate him!" cried Hussein. "Every compatriot, every youth, every old man must remember that the first factor for destroying our enemy is to hate him, to hold him in contempt, and to fill our hearts with rage and hatred against him."

It is significant that the Communist technique for infiltrating a country is to gain control first, of the secret police, then the educational system.

Ike's Ex-Aide

The backstage story that has been intriguing Washington society for weeks now seems on the way to settlement. It's the alimony dispute between Ike's former Naval Aide, Capt. Harry Butcher, and his former wife, which was scheduled to involve Mrs. Eisenhower as a witness. Captain Butcher, a popular figure around Washington for many years, where he was the first representative of CBS, served as wartime Naval Aide to the now President of the United States. While their husband was abroad, Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Butcher shared the same apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel.

After the war, Butcher wrote the best-selling book, "My Three Years With Eisenhower." And having long been separated from his wife, divorced her in the spring of 1946, married Mary Margaret Ford May 7, 1946, and went to live in Santa Barbara, Calif., where he now owns and operates Radio-TV Station KEYT. By a property settlement made March 20, 1946, Harry was to pay his first wife $1,500 a month for life or until remarriage. She now claims, in a suit for alimony filed in the U. S. District Court in the District of Columbia, that this was reduced by verbal agreement in September 1951 to $750 a month on condition that payments be made regularly on the first of the month.

However, Mrs. Butcher now alleges that payments lagged behind. She asks that the old agreement be reinstated, and claims back payments of $41,850 — $4,050 for 1953, and $37,800 for 1953-56, during which only $600 a month was paid.

Mrs. Butcher has continued to be a good friend of Mrs. Eisenhower and is a frequent caller at the White House. Butcher's attorneys were reported planning to call Mamie as a witness to show that his former wife had lived on less than $750 a month when they were married and that he was supporting her in better circumstances now than then.

However, Butcher, reached in Santa Barbara, said that a property settlement was under discussion and a compromise certain to be reached. There are signs of relief around the White House, but signs of disappointment around Washington society.

Washington Pipeline

Congressmen aren't happy about it, but Congressman Clare Hoffman's proposal to abolish income taxes is now drawing more mail on Capitol Hill than any other measure. The House Judiciary Committee is receiving over 500 letters a day demanding hearings on Hoffman's Bill. No hearings will be held.

Look Out, Bosses!

For all those wives of men in business and government who share their husbands' fears of "the boss," Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, wife of the Secretary of Defense, showed the way toward a kind of partial emancipation.

When President Eisenhower rebuked Wilson for criticizing the National Guard, Mrs. Wilson springing to the secretary's defense and barked: "Uncalled for." Feminine backbones stiffened all across the nation.

Now she has had her reward. The Women's National Press Club has saluted her as "the spunkiest woman of the year."

Since the boss in this case is the President of the United States, what Mrs. Wilson said indeed took nerve.

Celebrating her spunk may serve to give the ladies another shot in the arm. In fact, if enough is made of a woman successfully talking back to her husband's boss, the idea may spread to the men themselves.

Listen closely. All that stern talk in the front office may not be coming from just one side of the boss's desk.

Spring Comes to Washington

The World Today

Nixon Said Much, But Not On Tax Cuts

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — Nobody talked more in the 1956 presidential campaign than Vice President Nixon but—nicely enough for him, as it turns out—no one said less about cutting government spending or taxes.

At one point early in the campaign he explained why when he said:

"In a political campaign it is tempting to tell the American people that we can get rid of the draft, cut our defenses, find a cut rate way to meet our international obligations... but American security must come before any political ambitions."

This was at a time when President Eisenhower's administration, pretty confident at winning, was preparing the record peacetime budget of almost 72 billion dollars which he offered Congress this year.

Thus Nixon paved the way for what he told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Monday. Without running the risk of having campaign oratory thrown back at him, when he defended Eisenhower's budget as not only necessary but "sound."

A rereading of Nixon's campaign speeches shows he spent practically no time on economics — except to tell people they had it so good — and spent most of his time building up Eisenhower in the "father image" of a good and wise man.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Members of the largest class in history of the Sedalia or Smith-Cotton High Schools, 211 graduates, were scheduled to receive diplomas at commencement May 19. The Rev. G. A. Baldwin was to give the baccalaureate address Sunday, May 15, 1932.

Peter Wilson, 1611 West Main, left for St. Joseph where he accepted a position with Sears, Roebuck and Company in the sporting goods department of its store there.

Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, a former pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church, was here from Princeton, N. J., as guest of John Montgomery Jr., at his home, 504 South Grand.

W. F. Keyser, secretary of the Missouri Bankers' Association, returned from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where he attended a meeting of the executive boards of the American Bankers' Association.

FORTY YEARS AGO

R. L. Harris returned from Boonville Monday, where he successfully passed examination for the Officers' Reserve Corps training camp at Ft. Riley, Kan.

J. E. Love, secret service agent for the Missouri Pacific, formerly a deputy sheriff, was transferred to Kansas City.

Dr. F. L. Sutton, former Sedalia, was here from his home at Columbia on a business visit.

The Rev. C. M. Truex, former pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, accepted a position as efficiency and organization manager under the Lamine Baptist Association comprising the counties of Morgan and Cooper. Thirty churches are represented.

If Nixon looks consistent in not promising reduced spending, some of his other campaign statements can be wrapped around his neck. But, since he was a politician plugging for his party, they probably do not haunt him.

In urging voters to re-elect Eisenhower and give Republicans control of Congress, Nixon said: "Ours is a teamwork organization from top to bottom. The President must simply have people on his team who are working with and for him."

Yesterday, one day after Nixon defended Eisenhower's budget before the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the Republican leader in the Senate, William F. Knowland of California, addressed the same businessmen's organization.

He not only didn't fight for the budget or defend it. He said Congress would and ought to cut it by three billion dollars. He's just one of the "teamwork" Republicans who are beginning to buck the President.

Nixon also beat on a theme which has been used so often by Republicans that it looks like a party folk song. He pointed out that when the Republicans ran Congress last in 1954 the country got a $7,400,000,000 tax cut.

That, Nixon said, was the "largest dollar tax cut in history." Because of the very careful language he used—the "largest dollar tax cut"—he was right and can not be disputed.

Democrats may argue, but don't spend time doing it, that two previous tax cuts were a little bigger percentage-wise.

In 1945, when Democrats ran Congress, taxes were reduced $5,900,000,000. In 1948, when Republicans ran Congress in that election year, taxes were cut $4,800,000,000.

Democrats could argue that in those two years, when total revenue was lower than in 1954, the tax cuts of 1945 and 1948 were, percentage-wise, a trifle larger than the 1954 cut.

All in all, Nixon, an experienced talker, didn't intend his talk before the Chamber to be historic. He dictated a few hurried notes before he dashed off to make his speech.

Dr. Jordan Says

No Known Treatment For True Color Blindness

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Apparently many people are not aware that they are color blind until they are tested for it. This can be dangerous for anyone who drives a car — and for the rest of us — but today many states require this test before issuing an operator's license.

A typical example comes from E. C., who writes: "I recently had to take a physical examination for work and was told I am color blind. Please tell me what color blindness is and whether anything can be done about it?"

It is remarkable that ordinarily the human eye and brain possess the power to distinguish different colors. If this did not exist none of us could appreciate the enormous variety of color in nature, we should have few artists and those engaged in certain occupations would be severely handicapped.

Color sense is a quality of that portion of the eye known as the retina, which records impressions of light rays and transmits these impressions through the optic nerve to the brain. Some color rays are not consciously appreciated, and some people are more aware of differences in shades of color than others.

Color blindness is considered to be partial or total. There are three varieties of partial color blindness; in one there is a lack of ability to "see" red; this is known as red blindness; in another green is not distinguished, and in the third there is a deficiency in seeing yellow and blue, though red and green can be readily identified. The latter is rather rare.

The totally color blind are those who cannot tell any color from another but only variation in the brightness of the object. To such persons the world is all black, white and gray.

Color blindness is of extreme importance, particularly the red and green variety, in certain occupations such as those in railway, air or marine service, because the ability to discriminate between red and green signals is of vital significance. Keen ability to discriminate colors is also of importance to many workers in chemicals, lithographers, painters and of course artists.

Color blindness is usually considered inborn. It is believed to be truly hereditary and transmitted through the mother to the male children. This is probably responsible for the fact that color blindness is ten times as common among the male population as among the female; one man in 25 is said to be affected to some degree by color blindness.

Can color blindness be treated? True color blindness cannot be overcome or improved by treatment or exercise, though during the last war some young men who had this difficulty made fewer color mistakes after a period of training. The most important feature about color blindness is that those who are afflicted should know it and govern their lives accordingly.

Thinking It Over

By Robt L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Sirens on ambulances, fire trucks and police cars are very frightening to some people. Some of the fear results from our basic fear of loud noises. Additional fear can grow out of damaging experiences which have been associated with similar noises or sounds.

We tend to relate experiences to sensory perceptions. We are inclined to presuppose our new reactions to stimuli because of related stimulus responses in the past.

Somehow we must come to realize that the sounds we hear in conjunction with previous experiences are merely for the purpose of preventing a recurrence of such unpleasant experiences.

Fear of God is not a terrible thing. Fear of God should really be translated into a few thoughts of respect, a few examples of assistance and a variety of warnings. When the siren blows, stand still and get its real message of precaution.

God's word should not create fear but it should inspire us to better living.

Have a bit of broccoli leftover? Mix it with the egg you're scrambling for lunch for a delicate flavor variation.

Roving Diplomat Plays 'In Tougher League' Now

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's Special Ambassador James P. Richards cabled back to Washington after one stop on his swing through the Middle East to sell the Eisenhower doctrine: "I'm playing in tougher league now and battling average beginning to slump."

This has been the exception rather than the rule on Richards' trip. By and large, Washington officials are more than pleased with the former South Carolina congressman's first mission as a roving diplomat.

The full story of the Richards mission has not been made public and it probably won't be.

Privately, State Department officials have been keeping a box score on the commitments which Richards has made for U. S. aid to Middle East countries he has visited. These figures are not being released. To do so might involve the United States in charges of playing favorites by giving more aid to one country than to its neighbors.

As an example, an Arab broadcast recently put out the propaganda that only one million dollars worth of U. S. aid had been promised Lebanon, while Israel was to get 100 million.

Both figures were wrong. The broadcast was made before Richards had even been to Israel. But this is the kind of trouble that publication of dollar figures could cause.

Eventually all these figures will have to go to Congress for approval. But their release by Congress on a country-by-country basis will be opposed, as leading to unnecessary complications.

Some countries are bigger than others and some are more strategically located. Such countries might naturally get more military or economic assistance. But this has to be explained.

In the case of area developments involving joint projects that cover several countries, total aid figures can be given without stirring up any rivalries.

Thus in Baghdad, Richards was able to announce that "a sum of $12,575,000 might be made available" to develop railroads, highways and communications in the Baghdad pact countries — Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan.

The original plan was that Richards would complete his tour in six weeks. This would have put him back in Washington May 1. There have been unforeseen delays, however, and the Richards mission had to take a few days' rest at Asmara, Eritrea, after visiting 11 countries.

Present indications are that Richards will not be back before May 10, after visiting Israel, Greece, Tunis, Morocco. If he also is invited to visit Jordan, Egypt and Syria, his return might be delayed till May 15 or later.

The first 11 countries visited were Lebanon, Libya, Turkey, Iran, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Ethiopia and Sudan, in that order.

Yemen and Sudan made no decision on endorsement of the Eisenhower doctrine and no mutual assistance agreements were made with them. This was not due to any anti-American feeling. The principal factor was that the two governments are both so inexperienced in foreign affairs that they have no firm policies.

In all but one of the first 11 countries there were strong declarations against communism. Afghanistan refrained from such a declaration because of her isolated position right up against the Russian border and her established policy of neutrality.

In all of the countries visited on the first part of the Richards mission there were strong declarations in support of the United Nations, independent sovereignty, non-intervention in the affairs of other governments and rejection of aggression from any source.

These declarations are considered as important as the declarations against communism. But the last leg of the tour is the hard part. And this is where Richards feels his batting average may slump.

Crossroads Comment

by G. H. S.

Seems like there's a guy named Joe Blow everybody has been overlooking in Missouri. The Pleasant Hill Times calls attention to this in a pointed sort of way as follows:

"Everybody who is anybody, from the governor on down, indorsed the pay raise for legislators: the state chamber of commerce, the labor unions, the editors, the teachers, the public expenditure survey; the accountants, the bankers, the chiropractors; the optometrists, public officials and lawyers; the manufacturers, morticians and motel operators."

"Everybody but Joe Blow, who did the voting, and who allowed he wasn't getting his money's worth."

"The legislature, the papers said, was collectively very angry when the returns came in."

"This left Joe Blow a little puzzled. He remembered only a few months ago that candidates solicited his vote for representative and senator, leaving the strong impression they would consider it a favor if they got elected. None of them regarded the job as a sole means of support, or full-time occupation, and Joe was surprised when the matter of legislative pay turned out to be an emergency issue requiring a special election. He is very sorry if any of his friends are mad at him for the way he voted."

"Joe likes the men and women in the general assembly, as individuals. After all, he sent them there. But he has good reason, over a long period of years, to be unhappy with their performance as a legislative body."

"He has noticed that it is possible, under some circumstances, for legislation to proceed promptly through both houses. An amazing record was made by the recent special-election bills. But Joe waited for years and years and years before the general assembly could get around to a half-way reasonable drivers' license law, and he is still waiting for a highway-speed law, which may come this session. No well-heeled lobby ever seemed to care about the Blows who were getting killed on the highways."

"Joe Blow, we maintain, is not a stingy man, but he believes that a pay raise alone is not the cure for what is wrong with our legislature, and he is going to have to be shown more for his money before he votes for a substantial salary increase."

"Perhaps he would agree that a 70-member one-house legislature, something like Nebraska's, is what would be best with a pay increase. Just because it is opposed by lobbyists is no sign it wouldn't appeal to Joe. He doesn't always go by what those fellows say, anyway, as he has just proved. Why not give a chance to vote on it?"

Three cheers for Blow, he's a smart Joe!

Author of Novel Sees Need For Changes in Hollywood

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — "It must be terrible to be dead in any way," said the lady author, "but it must be worse of all to be dead in the head."

The author, Mrs. Grace Metalious, who became a literary sensation by lifting the lid on a New England village, now feels it's time to lift the lid on a modest little town in the California coast. It's a place called Hollywood.

Mrs. Metalious recently made a trip there to wrap up details of the filming of her best-selling novel, "Peyton Place."

"There is only one word to describe Hollywood—fear," she observed. "I have never seen so much fear in so many people so much of the time—the fear of losing their jobs."

"I don't see how they can work in such a dreadful atmosphere," Mrs. Metalious also said she found herself a bit at a loss in trying to dig what passes for conversation at sophisticated Hollywood parties.

She gave this example: "one guest remarked, 'The Beverly Hilton is just a glorified motel,' and another guest replied, 'But aren't we all?'"

"This I couldn't understand at all," said Mrs. Metalious. "I never felt like being called Mountain View Lodge or Bide-a-Wee on the Highway."

Life has moved at a furious pace for the plump young housewife since the publication of her controversial first novel last fall.

She has earned about a quarter of a million dollars; been sued for a quarter of a million dollars; she and her schoolteacher husband, George, have separated; her book has been banned as "obscene" by Canada.

She has bought two second-hand Cadillacs and a 180-year-old Cape

Smith-Cotton Music Students Get 7 Ones In the State Contest

On April 26 Smith-Cotton took their musicians to Columbia to take part in the state music contest. Those who have survived the local and district contests with high ratings were sent to Columbia last week to display their talents. The seven one ratings were received by the following students: Nan Ferguson, Barbara Mabry and Ken Williams for vocal solos. Vocal ensembles to receive top ratings were the junior boys quartet and the senior girls sextet. Susan Schien and Wayne Sievers both received top ratings for their violin solos.

Two ratings were received by the following: Pat Moore, Judy Curran, Harry Satterwhite and Sandra Mahnen for vocal solos. Sue Heckart, flute, and Clifford Robinson, trumpet, for instrumental solos. And the senior boys quartet received a two rating.

Cod house in Gilmanton, N.H., which is still her home town and where opinion about her is still divided. She says "the ax-mouths"—her term for gossips—"still don't approve of me."

Mrs. Metalious, who retained custody of her three children, said the publication of her book had nothing to do with the breakup of her marriage, and her husband has said the same thing—that it was "a personal matter."

Has success ruined her life? Not at all.

"I've got the most wonderful house in the world, the most wonderful children in the world—and I have money. Money is the only thing that makes life worthwhile to most people. It can help you do so many things," she explained.

Mrs. Metalious, a bluntly honest woman with a hatred for hypocrisy, is now engaged in writing her second novel—"The Tight White Collar."

"It's theme is man's inhumanity to man," she said, adding: "In a small town."

Cornice Falls, Leaves Scratch on Girl's Toe

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Judith Gay of Youngsville came here to be interviewed for a state job—and the roof almost fell in on her.

As she hurried along a midtown street during a sudden thunderstorm, lightning hit a building and dislodged its cornice. A stone block weighing hundreds of pounds fell on the sidewalk near her.

Frightened, she ran back to the building where she had been interviewed. She was given aspirin and a sniff of ammonia before someone noticed that the shattered stone had scratched her big toe.

After medical aid, state employees found her a ride home, away from city hazards.

Morning TV Star Has Time For Romance

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Hardy souls who labor on television's early morning shows will tell you earnestly that the only thing wrong with their jobs is their social life.

In order to arise at 3:30 or 4 a.m., they must bed with the birds. They are among the missing when others are having fun.

Despite this handicap, Helen O'Connell, featured on "Today" (7:10 a.m., EST) has found time for romance. Her boss Dave Garraway married some months back; Miss O'Connell will be married next week—to an author she met a month or so back. Things have been arranged so she can miss a Friday and a Monday show to have a four-day honeymoon.

Helen, a pretty green-eyed blonde with dimples, was a singing success before World War II when the big name bands were the fancy of the young crowd. As a featured singer with Jimmy Dorsey's band, she turned out such hit records as "Tangerine," "All of Me," "Green Eyes" and "Six Lessons from Madame La-Zonga."

In 1943, returning a $50,000 motion picture contract unsigned, she married a Boston socialite and turned California hausfrau. They had three daughters — Jacqueline, now 12; Joanne, 9, and Jennifer, 8—when they were divorced seven years later. Helen went back to show business. She did the night club circuit, toured with such stars as Vic Damone, Martin & Lewis and Johnny Ray. Last December she went on the "Today" show.

Upon marriage to Tom Chamale, author of "Never So Few," she's planning to continue her work.

"It's fine with Tom," she says. "He likes to get up and start writing at 5 in the morning, so my hours won't be a problem."

Best rated TV shows in the two weeks ending April 6, according to Nielsen report were one-shot "Cinderella" and "Academy Awards," in that order, followed by Lucy, $64,000 Question, G. E. Theater, Ed Sullivan, Disneyland, Comco, Hitchcock and December Bride. Pulse lists, for first week of April Bob Hope, Person to Person, Sullivan, Comco, Playhouse 90, Climax, Lucy, Phil Silvers, Lineup and Caesar's Hour in that order.

See Diminishing Storms, Rains In Texas Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rains in the storm and flood stricken areas of Texas appeared diminishing a little today and some easing of overflows of many major streams was indicated.

The floods, however, were described by a federal civil defense chief as "a disaster of great proportions."

The flooded upper Sabine River reached its greatest height in history and overflowed at Gladewater in the east Texas oil fields. Some 60 oil wells halted pumping. The Sabine at Gladewater at 39.95 feet was nearly 14 feet above flood stage.

Flood threats appeared easing on the Colorado, Nueces, Guadalupe, Trinity and Brazos rivers as rains abated after two weeks of nearly steady downpours. Thirteen persons have drowned in the Texas floods and hundreds of persons have been evacuated from their homes.

Showers were fairly widespread during the night but rainfall was light in most places. The main belt of precipitation extended from northeastern Texas and Oklahoma eastward across the Gulf Coast states. The heaviest downpour was at Apalachicola, Fla., which reported 3 1/2 inches of rain in six hours.

Generally fair weather prevailed in the Northeast part of the country and in most of the far Southwest.

Hailstones Kill 32

Minnie Must Continue Old Menu—No Steak

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Mournful Minnie the Bloodhound won't get her steak dinner, but she had three grateful friends.

Minnie tracked down an alleged peeping tom in nearby Johnston County recently. Three witnesses, paid $160 each for appearing at the subsequent trial, forwarded their checks to State Prison officials. They thought Minnie should be rewarded with some steak for her detective work.

Robert A. Allen, director of prison field operations, said the checks — already returned once — will go back again to the senders. Meanwhile Minnie is doing well on plain dog food.

Government Expected To Take Possession Of Library on May 12

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government probably will take possession of the Harry S. Truman library at Independence, Mo., about May 12.

A government spokesman said yesterday that the General Services Administration informed Congress March 1 that it would accept an offer of the library and an offer by the former President of his papers. The law which authorizes the government to accept such gifts requires that Congress be notified 60 days in advance of the actual transaction. The Easter recess is excluded by law from the 60-day provision.

GUILTY

In 1943, returning a $50,000 motion picture contract unsigned, she married a Boston socialite and turned California hausfrau. They had three daughters — Jacqueline, now 12; Joanne, 9, and Jennifer, 8—when they were divorced seven years later. Helen went back to show business. She did the night club circuit, toured with such stars as Vic Damone, Martin & Lewis and Johnny Ray. Last December she went on the "Today" show.

Upon marriage to Tom Chamale, author of "Never So Few," she's planning to continue her work.

"It's fine with Tom," she says. "He likes to get up and start writing at 5 in the morning, so my hours won't be a problem."

Best rated TV shows in the two weeks ending April 6, according to Nielsen report were one-shot "Cinderella" and "Academy Awards," in that order, followed by Lucy, $64,000 Question, G. E. Theater, Ed Sullivan, Disneyland, Comco, Hitchcock and December Bride. Pulse lists, for first week of April Bob Hope, Person to Person, Sullivan, Comco, Playhouse 90, Climax, Lucy, Phil Silvers, Lineup and Caesar's Hour in that order.

Budgeting your nickels? An appliance manufacturer figures six hours of TV costs five cents in electricity — the price of 50 hours of radio from a table model.
